The Truck Training Schools Association of Ontario (T.T.S.A.O.) is a non-profit organization whose members are Private Career Colleges who offer a comprehensive curriculum leading to commercial driver certification.

Our Association was founded to promote excellence in the standard of commercial driver training. One of the TTSAO's principal goals is to increase the knowledge and skill of entry-level drivers and to provide them with the tools to maintain the high standards that are demanded by both the industry and the public. Member schools are required to meet stringent minimum standards of driver education, equipment and facilities and are audited on a regular basis to ensure that these standards are maintained. Choosing a TTSAO-endorsed training school therefore takes the guesswork out of evaluating a school's credentials.

For potential students or funding agents, you should ask that the school provide a letter from the TTSAO indicating that their programs are insurance endorsed. Endorsement of a program helps ensure that students are employable in the trucking industry.

Students who graduate with a TTSAO member school diploma are automatically given a two to three year Safe Driving record by some of Canada's leading commercial insurance carriers, thus making them the premiere hiring choice for transportation companies covered by those insurers.

Choosing a TTSAO member school gives your clients the very best chance of success. Our association is committed to standardizing and raising the level of driver education by helping member schools prepare well-trained industry ready graduates for entry into the transportation sector.

Our goal is to eliminate unsafe practices in this industry and pave the way to better and safer roads in Ontario.
